

Biography

Marc Funk, Chief Operating Officer and President for Lonza Pharma & Biotech

Marc Funk is the Chief Operating Officer and President for Lonza Pharma & Biotech. He joined the Lonza Group as the Chief Legal and Compliance Officer in 2008, coming from Merck Serono S.A. In addition to his role on Lonza's Executive Committee, Marc served as Board Secretary from 2012 until 2014.

Since 2014 Marc has transformed Lonza Pharma & Biotech by consolidating operations, elevating quality and operations standards to an industry-benchmark level and realigning the business. This realignment toward a more customer-centric, market-oriented approach demonstrates Lonza's commitment to research in order to revolutionize the way drugs are brought to patients.

Earlier in his career, Marc was co-founder, co-CEO and General Counsel for the biotech research company GeneProt Inc., which was later transferred to Novartis. He also served in the past as a special adviser and project leader for the Nasdaq-listed company Rad Technologies.

Marc holds a Master of Law from the University of Geneva and a Master of Law and Diplomacy from the Fletcher School at Tuft University in the United States.