

Esther Lukasiewicz Hagai, MD, PhD CEO
FutuRX Ltd

Dr. Lukasiewicz-Hagai is the CEO of FutuRx Ltd., the Israeli Biotechnology accelerator that was established in January 2014 by OrbiMed Israel Partners, Johnson & Johnson Innovation, JJDC and Takeda Ventures Inc. after winning the tender of the Office of Israeli Innovation Authority (IIA) in Israel.

Before joining FutuRx, she was Vice President of Clinical and Regulatory Affairs at Pluristem Ltd, an Israeli Biotechnology Company developing placental cells. Previously, she was Director, Clinical Program Leader, at Teva Global R&D.

She holds a M.D. and a Medical Residency in Public Health from Paris V School of Medicine. In addition, she holds a PhD from Bar-Ilan University. She brings over 15 years of experience in drug development including small molecules, biologics, biosimilars and cell therapy in the field of oncology, neurodegenerative diseases, vascular diseases and orthopedic conditions.