

Joel V. Brill, MD FACP

Joel V. Brill, MD FACP is an executive clinician with over 30 years of experience providing strategic leadership and medical oversight to data-driven health organizations. He is skilled in strategy, development and implementation of innovative health programs, products and payment systems, with extensive experience in clinical practice, research, coverage, reimbursement, quality improvement, data analysis, bundled and episode payments and accountable care.

Dr. Brill is Board Certified in Internal Medicine and Gastroenterology. He is the Chief Medical Officer of Predictive Health. Dr. Brill has run risk-bearing Independent Practice Associations and Physician-Hospital Organizations, held management positions with several managed care companies, was the Deputy Medical Director for the BFCC.NCC-QIO oversight project, co-chaired the Part D medication measures Technical Expert Panel for CMS, and is the co-founder of the AGA Center for GI Innovation and Technology. He participates in the CPT Editorial Panel and the AMA RBRVS Update Committee (RUC), has introduced over 180 CPT coding proposals, and has developed and submitted advanced payment models to the HHS Physician Focused Payment Model Technical Advisory Committee for consideration under MACRA.

Dr. Brill is an Assistant Clinical Professor of Medicine at the University of Arizona College of Medicine - Phoenix and an Adjunct Assistant Professor of Medicine at Midwestern University.