

Jed Cohen
Managing Director
Leerink Partners

Jed Cohen is a Managing Director at Leerink Partners, focused on the medical technology industry. Jed joined Leerink in June 2009 and has 20+ years of health care investment banking experience, including 12 years at Citigroup and 3 years at UBS.

Jed's transaction experience includes advisory work and financing assignments with clients across the health care industry, with an exclusive focus on the "middle market"/emerging growth segment of the medical device industry since 2000.

Jed received his Bachelor of Science in Economics from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School.