

Dr. Ron Sabar, a Family and Palliative Medicine specialist, is recognized as a leading expert in palliative care and home hospitalization. He founded Sabar Health—Home Hospital in 2005, which has grown to become Israel's premier home hospital service and is noted as the largest physician-led home hospital worldwide. Serving over 2,400 patients of diverse ages across the nation at any given time, the organization has earned eight distinguished hospital@home awards. Under Dr. Sabar's leadership, Sabar Health operates to the highest medical and professional standards, overseen by Israel's Ministry of Health and in partnership with the nation's four HMOs. Dr. Sabar's vision for the company stems from his belief that a patient's home is the most natural and soothing environment for care.

In addition to his role at Sabar Health, Dr. Sabar co-founded Epilog, where he serves as CMO. Epilog is a pioneering end-of-life care platform that offers a digital companion to provide personalized guidance for individuals facing serious illnesses, ensuring a seamless transition to care that prioritizes quality of life.

Dr. Sabar is also an active investor and consultant for Identifai-Genetics. This company specializes in advanced bioinformatics technology to provide early and comprehensive prenatal screening for genetic syndromes, pushing the frontiers of genetic health services.
