1. The Future of Aging: Where Longevity Meets Innovation

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY / INVESTMENT RATIONALE

Breeoot is a precision preventive medicine platform combining AI-driven digital health technology with concierge medical services, targeting high-performing individuals and families. The global longevity and preventive healthcare market represents a multi-billion dollar opportunity. Backed by leading healthtech investors, Breeoot's multidisciplinary team delivers measurable healthspan improvements.

CORE TECHNOLOGY

Breeoot's proprietary AI-powered Health Management Platform (Medicine 3.0) integrates advanced biomarker analysis, wearable data, and longitudinal health records to generate deeply personalised care protocols and execute them. Unlike reactive healthcare, Breeoot enables proactive monitoring and early intervention. Its unique value lies in bridging cutting-edge digital tools with an elite clinical network to orchestrate holistic, evidence-based healthspan optimisation.

PRODUCT PROFILE / PIPELINE

Breeoot operates as a digital health platform paired with premium medical services, currently serving individuals, families, and corporate executives. The platform delivers personalised health management plans, AI-driven monitoring, and access to a curated multidisciplinary medical team. Breeoot is actively pursuing partnerships with family offices, high end employers, and premium wellness programmes to accelerate commercial growth and market penetration.

BUSINESS STRATEGY

Breeoot generates revenue through direct-to-consumer subscriptions, concierge medical service fees. Revenue is driven by premium individual memberships and family health programmes. Long-term strategy focuses on scaling the Breeoot platform into various regions, transforming preventive care into a scalable, data-driven global service.

WHAT'S NEXT?

Breeoot is building clinical research capabilities to validate healthspan outcomes and establish evidence-based protocols. Organisationally, the company is expanding its medical and technology teams to support growth across Europe and North America. Breeoot is pursuing its next funding round to accelerate growth, platform development, D2C sales, and strategic partnerships with leading longevity research institutions and healthcare systems.
