

Mr. Kidron serves as Chief Executive Officer & Director of Oramed Pharmaceuticals, which he co-founded in 2006. Oramed is the first company to conduct Phase 3 trials under the FDA for oral insulin.

Mr. Kidron is an entrepreneur whose experience includes senior executive roles in a wide range of industries. He co-founded Oravax Medical as a joint-venture with Oramed and Premas Biotech and currently serves as the Chairman of the Board. Oravax is dedicated to bringing an oral Covid-19 vaccine to market. He also co-founded Entera Bio as a joint venture formed by Oramed and DNA Biomedical Solutions. He is a member of the IATI Board, and an international lecturer on Israel's entrepreneurial culture and the country's roots as an oasis of innovative ideas.

Mr. Kidron holds a bachelor's degree in law and an international master's in business administration, both from Bar-Ilan University in Israel. Mr. Kidron is a fellow of the Merage Business Executive Leadership Program and a member of the Israeli Bar Association.