

Medical Cannabis - The Green Elephants in the Room

Syqe has developed the first and only inhalation platform in the world for delivering exact doses directly from plants. The first drug implemented in the platform is cannabis, making it the world's first and only metered-dose cannabis inhaler, marketed by Teva Pharmaceuticals in Israel. Syqe completed several successful clinical trials, demonstrating precise and efficacious treatment meeting pharmaceutical standards.

The Syqe Inhaler administers the patient a precise amount of the molecules naturally existing in the cannabis plant, allowing treatment accuracy. The Syqe Inhaler makes it possible to reduce the plant's psychoactive effects and obtain fast pain relief, without exposure to the harmful effects of smoking. The daily treatment regimen is tailored individually for each patient.
