

Daphna Murvitz

Co-Founder and CEO

With a track record in cross-industry and cross-sector leadership, including hi-tech, bio-med and services, within the private, government and non-profit sectors, Daphna is a change leader and a people-driving executive, who combines vision with effective implementation and collaboration skills to reach ambitious impact.

She was previously EVP of Beta O2 Technologies, CEO of Israel Venture Network (IVN), Director of global operations at Check Point Software Technologies, held prior executive positions in Strauss & Co. and FCO-FedEx and served as a commercial attorney at Shekel & Co, law firm. She holds a L.L.B and a BA from Tel Aviv University and is certified as an executive coach and a corporate director.