

Eliran Malki

Co-founder & CEO of Belong.Life, a Meaningful patient care and community platforms, and the creator of social and professional patient engagement networks for managing and navigating various diseases, patient journeys and patient communities

Eliran Malki is a serial entrepreneur. Over the past 20 years, he has founded, managed and led successful companies including MoreVRP (acquired by EMC/DELL), Veracity (acquired by E&M), Commit (acquired), Belong.life and more.

Eliran has lectured at leading international digital health and business conferences and an active member of several health committees and initiatives,

*Eliran founded Belong.Life, in 2015. Today, the Belong Brands includes “Belong-beating cancer together” and “Belong MS”, the world’s largest social and professional networks for Cancer and MS patients and Belong BOS, supporting millions, providing education, tips, peer-networking, access to global medical experts, clinical trial matching and digital patient tools.*

