

Nissim Darvish, MD, PhD

Nissim Darvish, MD, PhD, is a General Partner at MeOHR Ventures. Nissim is a veteran of the lifescience industry, with 25 years of experience covering medical technology development, corporate leadership and investment management. Prior to joining MeOHR VC, Nissim was Senior Managing Director at OrbiMed, heading the OrbiMed Israel Office and raising over $500M as part of the OrbiMed Israel funds. Before that he spent eight years with Pitango, where he was the General Partner managing life sciences investments. Previously, he was the founder and CEO of Impulse Dynamics, which he led for six years, culminating in a $250 million realization event. Nissim obtained his M.D. and Ph.D. in Biophysics and Physiology from the Technion in Israel, and subsequently conducted his postdoctoral research at the N.I.H. He has published over 100 patents, authored over 20 publications and received eight prizes and awards. He currently serve as Chairman and Director of Biotech, Medtech and Digital Health companies globally.