Prof. Patrice L. (Tamar) Weiss directs the Laboratory for Innovations in Rehabilitation Technology (LIRT) at the University of Haifa where she and her team develop and evaluate novel virtual environments, haptic interfaces, co-located and online technologies to explore the effect of individual and collaborative rehabilitation. Rehabilitation and special education populations of interest include stroke, spinal cord injury, cerebral palsy, developmental coordination disorder, autism and head trauma. She is also a researcher for the ReAbility Online tele-rehabilitation service (Gertner Institute, Sheba Medical Center). Her research has been funded by the European Union, the Israel Science Foundation and Israeli Center of Research Excellence (I-CORE): Learning in a Networked Society.
