

Dr. Ilana Schlesinger

Dr. Ilana Schlesinger is a Senior Neurologist, specializing in movement disorders and Parkinson's disease. She graduated from the School of Medicine at Hebrew University in Jerusalem, underwent clinical training in Neurology at Hadassah Medical Center and later specialized in the field of Movement Disorders and Parkinson's disease at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center in Massachusetts, USA. She is A Senior Clinical lecturer at the Ruth and Bruce Rappaport Faculty of Medicine of the Technion – Israel Institute of Technology. She heads the Movement Disorders Institute at Rambam Medical Center. Together with the Neurosurgery department she founded a center for Focused Ultrasound Treatments for movement disorder, one of the leading centers in the world. Her main research and clinical interests are in the field of novel treatments for movement disorders.